

Atlas Agents Pack with Care.

Very simply, we “take care of it.”

As part of our commitment to serve you with integrity, quality and solutions, Atlas provides professional packing services to ensure your belongings arrive safely at your new home.

Atlas emphasizes training and experience with our packers to bring you outstanding quality service. Our interactive educational program, “Packing with Care,” was developed by the most experienced packers in our nationwide agency network. We use it throughout our organization to share the knowledge of our top experts with our packing professionals. And Atlas is the first carrier to require criminal background checks on new, permanently employed moving team members, including the packers and loaders. We request background checks on all temporary and part-time laborers as well (an Atlas Initiative).

Day-in and day-out experience with the tools, techniques and materials needed for superior protection make your Atlas Packer a proven asset for the safety and security of your belongings during transit.

Atlas saves you money and time.

To serve you most efficiently, your Atlas Agency Sales Representative will ask to walk through your home with you to determine the packing materials required for your relocation. Point out any special pieces or concerns you may have. Your Atlas Packers are experts who know which materials and packing techniques are right for any item.

On packing day, the Atlas professionals will arrive with everything required to prepare your belongings for safe transport. You'll notice every action reflects our commitment to care for your property as if it were our own. For example, in our packing process we use new, ink-free sheets of paper, tissue or other special papers to properly wrap your goods and keep them clean during transit.

Specially designed cartons enable your Atlas Van Operator to load with maximum efficiency and protection for your belongings. Our proven system ensures the safety of even your most delicate items.

Your Atlas Packers also know which items can be transported safely and which items – including certain chemicals and common household products – cannot.

When you rely on your Atlas Agent to pack for your move, you can be confident that your belongings are in skilled hands. Our specially trained, experienced crews are committed to making sure that your goods will arrive safely. Because Atlas Agents pack with utmost care, your best assurance of safe transport is to simply let your Atlas professionals “take care of it.”
